

The Friends of Archer Park Rail Museum, Rockhampton Queensland

QR 1614 English Electric

The 1600 class locomotives were built by the English Electric Company (Australia), Rocklea, Brisbane. The eighteen diesel electric locomotives of this class went into service with Queensland Government Railways in 1963 and were withdrawn from service in 1991.

The 1600 class locomotives worked on branch lines throughout the state hauling goods and passenger services. No 1614 worked through Archer Park Railway Station during its working life and is currently on loan from the Australian Railway Historical Society (Queensland).

During restoration in Rockhampton: bogies, batteries and battery boxes [lz 6204]

QR's English Electric manufactured No 1614 on arrival at Archer Park, 14 April 2003 [lz 7950]